The SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE.

[Numb. 1966.] MONDAY, AUGUST 30, 1773.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the EXCHANGE.

☞ T. POWELL & Co. repeat their most grateful Respects to the Encouragers of this Gazette, and beg Leave to acquaint them, that ONE Year BECAME DUE Four MONTHS ago; and, as their small Demands lie in so many different Hands, that, unless they are also supported by regular annual Payments, it will be impossible to continue their Business on the Plan of PUBLIC UTILITY—the Expence and Trouble attending which are great. They therefore hope, that those of their Subscribers, as well in the Country as in Town, who have not yet attended to this, will make, or order, immediate Payment, and render any further Application to them unnecessary.

New-Providence, July 24th, 1773.

Mr. POWELL,

By giving the following Lines a Place in your GAZETTE, as soon as possible, you will oblige a great many of your Readers in this Island.

AMONG the many Inconveniencies to which small Communities are exposed, it is not the least, that the Administration of the Laws is generally more unequal and irregular, and the pernicious Effects which are apt to flow from Power and indirect Influence, are oftener felt, than in extensive and populous Societies, where the Contempt and Hatred, incurred by infringing the Laws, spread wider, become more universal, and Offenders in Office are more obnoxious to public Resentment. A thousand Evils and Male-Practices of a public Nature, that call aloud for Redress and Punishment, and would, in a large Place, make infinite Noise, and raise the Murmurs and Clamour of the Public, must be submitted to in a small Government, where the Hand of Justice is feeble and relaxed, and the People are deprived of that Security and Protection which they have a Right to expect from the Laws.

A Murder has lately been committed on this Island, and with such Circumstances of barbarous Cruelty, as must be shocking even to relate; the Coroner's Inquest viewed the Body of the unhappy Sufferer, and from sufficient Evidence, pointed out the Author of it, who was arrested and committed to Prison: After having been in Confinement for about three Weeks, one of our principal Magistrates, without a Habeas Corpus (a Matter which, it seems, he deemed a frivolous Ceremony below his Notice) orders the Goaler to bring the Prisoner before him at his Chamber, and admits him to Bail, without the Advice or Assistance of any other Magistrate. I shall decline to make those Observations which naturally occur, on the Goaler's illegal Conduct, in giving up his Prisoner contrary to Law, and without a proper Mandate for that Purpose; nor shall I specify those Acts of Parliament, forbidding to allow Bail, even on a mere Suspicion of Manslaughter or Felony, without two Magistrates at least, one whereof to be of the Quorum. The iniquitous Violation of Law, in allowing Bail on a Charge of Forgery, a Crime neither so odious nor horrid in its Nature, nor so alarming to Society, as that of Murder, has of late been sufficiently exposed by the celebrated Junius, in his Letter to Lord Mansfield; and the unhappy Earl of Ferrers, who being charged with and arrested for Murder, could not be admitted to Bail, is a standing Proof and Example, that, in a Country where Justice is dispensed with Vigour and Impartiality, neither the Dignity or Fortune of the Criminal, are sufficient to avert that Vengeance which so horrid an Iniquity calls for. In this Town, Sir, we have several Gentlemen in Commission of the Peace, of whom it is incumbent on me to say, that I think them extremely capable of advising in that Point, and had they, or any of them, been consulted, I believe they are Men of such Integrity, that no Consideration would have induced them to admit the above Criminal to Bail; one of them, the Hon. William Hutchinson, Esq; actually remonstrated against the Proceeding. I am sorry therefore that in Favour of the Gentleman under Consideration, I cannot be brought to think, that so unwarrantable a Step did not proceed from an Error of his Judgment: Though this Plea could by no Means screen him from the Punishment to which his Conduct has rendered him obnoxious, it might yet save him from that Indignation which every honest Breast must entertain against the Man, who, from the Importance of the Trust reposed in him, and the Tenor of the Oath, is under the most sacred Obligation to act according to the Laws, and who, notwithstanding, has been guilty of a most unprecedented and daring Violation of them. Bail has been allowed in this Government more than once, in a Case which happened about four or five Years ago, and which appeared prima Facie, to be Murder, though the Criminal on his Trial was found guilty of Manslaughter. I shall leave my Readers to judge how far the Precedent will excuse the present Affair. A Man struck another on the Head with the Barrel of a Gun, and in about ten Hours the Man died of the Fracture occasioned by the Blow; the Fact was proved against the Slayer, he was arrested, and admitted to Bail, by a single Magistrate. Though no less than four Acts of Parliament require the Judges of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and General Goal Delivery, to enquire, and punish such Magistrates as grant Bail where it ought to be refused, yet the least Notice was never taken of the Proceedings now related; and the Reason that an Indictment or Information was not ordered against the Magistrate, is best known to the Hon. Gentleman who at that Time presided at our Bar.

In a Country where Offences of so dangerous Tendency, and many other Violations of an inferior Nature, are daily committed with Impunity, and derive Sanction from Repetition, the Subject can have little Security for his Life, his Liberty, or his Estate; and as each Individual has an Interest in seeing the Laws justly distributed, every Man ought to do all in his Power towards reforming any Abuses or Irregularities, destructive of the Peace and Security of the People. When a Man that is invested with the most important Trust that can be committed to a Subject, makes light of it on almost every Occasion, and regards the Rights and Privileges of the Community, though small and insufficient when compared to other Governments, as a Matter of little Consequence; this, I say, is so glaring an Impropriety, that seems to involve in it a total Neglect of all that the Laws of Society, or Principles of Honour require of a Man.

As I am in Hopes, that the above Hints may serve either to deter, or persuade from the like unlawful Conduct for the future, I shall conclude, and remain, Sir, Your humble Servant,

A BAHAMIAN.

PHILO-PATRIÆ.

In the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY,

TUESDAY the 24th Day of Auguſt, 1773.

ORDERED,

THAT the Meſſage ſent from this Houſe this Day to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, together with the Reſolutions entered into by the Houſe, and the Extracts from the Journals of the whole Examination of Mr. Peronneau, both before this Houſe and by the Committee; together with the Orders and Reſolutions of this Houſe thereupon accompanying the ſame, be printed in the ſeveral Gazettes of this Province.

JAMES SIMPSON, CLERK.

In the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, the 23d Day of AUGUST, 1773.

May it pleaſe your Honour,

UPON reading a Meſſage ſent by the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly to your Honour, dated the 20th Inſtant, and before this Houſe by a Committee appointed to inſpect their Journals, this Houſe was ſtruck with Amazement, at finding therein the following extraordinary Aſſertion, "That His Majeſty's Council (meaning this Houſe) had, in their Addreſs to your Honour, dated the 13th Inſtant, endeavoured to deceive you, as well as the Public, by their pretended Fear that the Treaſury muſt ſoon ſtop Payment."

Sir, our Fears were real, and founded on the juſteſt Grounds, as will appear from the Extracts of the Journals of this Houſe herewith ſent you; but the Commons Houſe in their Meſſage, beg Leave to acquaint your Honour, that it appears to them "that there is no Probability that there will not always be Money in the Treaſury, ſufficient to anſwer every Claim upon it; for the Sum of 127,674*l.* 6*ſ.* 11*d.* due to the Public for Duties, the Firſt of June laſt, is to be looked upon as actually in the Treaſury, the Treaſurers being accountable for, and obliged, as they themſelves admit, to produce that Money, whenever required." Their own Phraſe, "due to the Public," ſhews that the Money is not in the Treaſury, for if it was there, it would not be due to the Public;—but, ſay they, it is to be looked upon as actually there, therefore, credo quod habes et habes.

The Treaſurers have indeed admitted, that they are reſponſible for it; but, is there no Difference between Reſponſibility and immediate Ability to pay? The Fact is, that however reſponſible the Treaſurers may be for that Sum, they are at preſent utterly unable to place it in the Treaſury, or to produce or pay One Shilling of it. The Security given by the Treaſurers may be very ſufficient; the Duties in the Hands of the Merchants, may be ultimately very ſecure; but, becauſe from the Information of one of the Joint Public Treaſurers, the Sum of £.10,000 now in the Treaſury, would not be ſufficient to anſwer the ordinary Expence of Government, longer than the Beginning of October next, therefore, and from a Conſideration of the Nature of our Circulating Paper, we addreſſed your Honour to order the ſaid Duties to be called in.

There is now circulating about 382,178*l.* 13*ſ.* 9*d.* in Bills, Orders, and Certificates, of various Denominations; yet, if all theſe ſhould be now brought in, there would not be more in the Treaſury than 57,895*l.* 10*ſ.* iſſuable and fit to anſwer the Public Demands, becauſe none of thoſe Bills, Orders, and Certificates, that are paid into the Treaſury, can be iſſued out again, excepting ſuch lawful Bills as were iſſued in the Year 1748; all the Reſt being either illegal, or the Time limited for their Circulation expired; and of thoſe lawful Bills there were circulating, on the 19th of October 1771, to the Amount of 98,895*l.* 10*ſ.*—ſince which, about £.35,000 of theſe have been brought into the Treaſury, where they now lie, ſo torn and obliterated, as to be unfit for Circulation: Which, being deducted from the 98,895*l.* 10*ſ.* reduces the Amount of thoſe lawful Bills now circulating to the Sum 63,895*l.* 10*ſ.*—and, allowing a Loſs upon the Whole, by a moderate Calculation, to the Amount of £.6000—that Sum being deducted, reduces the Amount of the Legal Bills, iſſued in 1748, now circulating, and which may be expected to come into the Treaſury, to the Sum of 57,895*l.* 10*ſ.* And from hence it may be reaſonably concluded, that if the whole Sum of 127,674*l.* 6*ſ.* 11*d.* due for Duties on the Firſt of June laſt, was to be paid into the Treaſury in the preſent circulating Paper, there would not be more than £.17,000 of the ſame that would be again iſſuable, ſuppoſing that thoſe Bills which are illegal, and thoſe which ought now to be in the Treaſury, as the Time limited by Law for their Circulation is expired, ſhould be paid in, proportionably with the lawful Bills of 1748: And although it may be ſaid, to what End ſhall we call in the Public Duties, when only ſo ſmall a Sum as about £.17,000 can be iſſued? We anſwer, that this demonſtrably proves the Neceſſity of the immediate Interpoſition of the Legiſlature, to prevent a Public Bankruptcy, being the great Evil ſtated in our Addreſs. From which State of Facts, we hope, it muſt clearly appear to your Honour, that our Apprehenſions of a Failure in the Public Treaſury, were not pretended, or calculated to deceive either your Honour or the Public.

Had Tax-Bills paſſed annually ſince the Year 1769, there would at this Time, in all Probability, have been £.300,000 circulating, agreeable to Law, inſtead of the preſent dangerous and illegal Circulation, which cannot but prove ineffectual to ſupport the Public Credit, and ought therefore to be alarming to every thinking Mind.

By Order of the Houſe,

EGERTON LEIGH.

RESOLVED,

THAT it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that all the Money now in the Treaſury, and ready to be paid in Diſcharge of ſuch legal Demands as may be made upon it, does not exceed the Sum of £.10,000.

Reſolved, That the Sum of 127,674*l.* 6*ſ.* 11*d.* which was due to the Public for Duties, on the Firſt of June laſt, is not now in the Treaſury, nor could the Treaſurers produce the ſame, or any Part thereof, when called upon by a Committee of this Houſe.

Reſolved therefore, That the firſt Sum of 127,674*l.* 6*ſ.* 11*d.* cannot now be looked upon as actually in the Treaſury, and ready for Public Service, without offering the greateſt Violence and Affront to Common Senſe and Reaſon.

Reſolved, That this Houſe had a juſt and ſolid Foundation for its late Addreſs to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, on the State of the Public Treaſury; that the Conduct of this Houſe therein, was neither haſty nor unprecedented—that it was deliberate and parliamentary—that it was reſpectful to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and not contemptuous to the Repreſentatives of the People, nor did it tend to endanger the Public Credit, but on the contrary, to maintain, ſtrengthen, and ſupport it.

Reſolved, That every unneceſſary Attempt to weaken or deſtroy the Public Confidence, in any of the conſtitutional Branches of the State, betrays a Want of true political Wiſdom and Diſcretion.

Reſolved, That the Stile and Language of the Meſſage of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, is unparliamentary, and although it muſt be conſidered by this Houſe as a Piece of unmerited Inſult, and cruel Diſreſpect, yet Mankind will eaſily judge whoſe Dignity is moſt affected thereby.

Reſolved, That the Cuſtom of permiting the Public Duties to remain in private Hands, for private Gain, is a groſs Perverſion of the Public Treaſury, and a ſore and dangerous Evil, by Means whereof, the Treaſury of this Province is kept in a State of Beggary and Want, and in a total Incapacity to anſwer any unforeſeen Demands which the Wiſdom of the Legiſlature may ſee proper to make on any great and ſudden Emergency.

Reſolved, That it is the Opinion of this Houſe, that no Time ſhould be loſt to remedy the Evil diſcovered and firſt ſuggeſted by this Houſe.

Reſolved, That the Directions which our late Addreſs prays to be given to the Attorney-General, allude plainly to public Bonds, on a Suppoſition that the ſame had been taken agreeable to the Terms of the General Duty Act; for as the Governor, nor either Houſe of Aſſembly, have any Power to direct Men to place their private Bonds in the Hands of His Majeſty's Attorney-General, ſo neither have any Branches of the Legiſlature a Right to compel that Officer to purſue a Practice which he has long declined, this Houſe being well-informed, that the preſent Attorney-General iſſues no Proceſs whatever as a common Attorney, and therefore the Inſinuation in the Meſſage of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, in Relation to that Officer, is deſtitute of all Foundation.

Reſolved, That no Words in the late Addreſs of this Houſe, afford any juſt Cauſe for the Cenſures paſſed thereon by the Meſſage of the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, as this Houſe have always endeavoured to ſhew a real and unaffected Eſteem for His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, and wiſh at all Times to cultivate a good Underſtanding with the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, in all Deliberations for the Public Good.

Extracts from the Journals of the Upper Houſe of Aſſembly, referred to in the Meſſage therewith ſent from that Houſe, to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, dated the 24th Day of Auguſt, 1773.

In the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY, Wedneſday the 11th Day of AUGUST, 1773.

MR. PERRONNEAU, one of the Joint Public Treaſurers, attending at the Door according to Order, was called in, and being aſked by the Preſident, by Order of the Houſe, if any and what Balance was due to the Public from the late Mr. Jacob Motte's, the late Treaſurer, Eſtate? he replied, that there was due from Mr. Motte's Eſtate to the Public, a Balance of Sixty-three Thouſand Nine Hundred and Seventy-four Pounds Nineteen Shillings and Five-Pence Currency.

Whereupon it was reſolved, on Motion, that a Meſſage ſhould be ſent to the Lieutenant-Governor, informing His Honour, that it having appeared to this Houſe, that there is now due to the Public a Balance of 63,974*l.* 19*ſ.* 5*d.* from the Eſtate of the late Public Treaſurer, Jacob Motte, Eſq; this Houſe did therefore deſire, that His Honour would be pleaſed to give Directions to the proper Officer to recover the ſaid Balance from the Repreſentatives of Mr. Motte, together with the legal Intereſt thereon, if it ſhall be the Opinion of the Attorney-General, that Mr. Motte's Eſtate is liable for the ſame: And a Meſſage to that Purport being prepared, was ordered to be ſigned by the Preſident, and ſent to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, by the Clerk. Mr. PERONNEAU was further aſked, by Order of the Houſe, what was the State of the Money in the Public Treaſury on the firſt Day of June laſt, and what Balance was then due to the Public for Duties? to which he replied, that there was then due to the Public from the Merchants, 127,674*l.* 6*ſ.* 11*d.* and that there was not now in the Public Treaſury above Ten Thouſand Pounds Currency which could be iſſued, and that he was really apprehenſive of a Public Bankruptcy, and being obliged to ſtop Payment, if the Public Debts were not more punctually diſcharged. Mr. PERONNEAU was then aſked, how long he apprehended that the Sum now in the Public Treaſury would be ſufficient to anſwer the Demands againſt the Public? to which he replied, he believed it would be ſufficient to anſwer the ordinary Expence till the Beginning of October next. Mr. PERONNEAU was then further aſked, what Sum he apprehended might be neceſſary, and would be ſufficient, to anſwer all the Demands and Exigencies of the Treaſury for the Term of Six Months next enſuing? to which he anſwered, that if an Allowance was to be made for exchanging ſuch Certificates as might be probably brought in, and all other Exigencies, he apprehended there might be wanting Fifty Thouſand Pounds Currency.

FRIDAY, the 13th Day of Auguſt, 1773.

HENRY PERONNEAU, Eſq; one of the Joint Public Treaſurers, attending at the Door, according to Order, was called in, and being aſked what Sum or Sums of Money had been paid out of the Public Treaſury ſince the laſt Tax Act, in Purſuance of the ſeveral Laws requiring the ſame, and which were to be replaced by the General Tax Law in the Public Treaſury? to which he replied, that the whole of the Sums together amounted to £.158,476.

FRIDAY, the 20th Day of Auguſt, 1773.

HENRY PERONNEAU, Eſq; one of the Joint Public Treaſurers, attending according to Order, was called in, and was defired to produce the Bonds and Notes taken for the Duties in the Public Treaſury; he accordingly produced two Bundles which on Examination appeared to be payable to HENRY PERONNEAU and BENJAMIN DART, Joint Public Treaſurers. He was then aſked, if thoſe were the Bonds and Notes which were taken for the Duties due on the Firſt Day of June laſt? which he replied, they were.

SATURDAY the 21ſt Day of Auguſt, 1773.

A Motion was made, that a Committee be appointed to go to the Treaſury, and to examine into the State of the Accounts, and to inſpect what Money was actually in the Treaſury, and to report the ſame to this Houſe.

Reſolved, That Mr. Chief Juſtice, and Mr. Drayton, be a Committee for that Purpoſe.

Ordered, That the ſaid Committee do proceed immediately.

Mr. Drayton from the Committee to examine into the State of the Treaſury, and to examine the Money actually there, informed the Houſe, that they were now ready to make their Report.

Reſolved, That the ſame be received immediately.

Mr. Drayton then read the Report in his Place, and delivered it at the Clerk's Table, where it was again read as follows: The Committee appointed to examine into the State of the Treaſury, and to examine the Money actually there,

Report, That the Treaſurers declared to the Committee, that they had not in the Treaſury the Sum of £.127,674 owing for Duties on the Firſt of June laſt, and that they could not procure any Part of that Sum; that they actually have in the Treaſury only the Sum of £.10,000 iſſuable Money; and that they are not able, by any Means, now to produce a larger Sum for Public Service; that they have in the Treaſury about £.35,000 lawful Money, but ſo defaced, that no Perſon will receive a Part of it; that now they have applied to all Perſons owing for Duties, that they pay them forthwith; and that hitherto, excepting four Merchants, who had not been long in Arrears, they had applied to every Perſon indebted for Duties.

Whereupon a Motion was made, that a Committee ſhould be appointed to take into Conſideration the Meſſage ſent to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor by the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly, together with the Report of this Committee, and to report to the Houſe what Steps it ſhall be proper for the Houſe to take thereupon: And the Motion being agreed to, Mr. Stu and Mr. Chief Juſtice were appointed a Committee for that Purpoſe.

MONDAY, the 23d Day of Auguſt, 1773.

Mr. Chief Juſtice, from the Committee appointed to take into their Conſideration, the Meſſage ſent to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, from the Commons Houſe of Aſſembly on the Addreſs of this Houſe, together with the Report of the Committee, and to report what Meaſures it will be proper for this Houſe to take thereupon, reported that they had come to ſeveral Reſolutions, which they recommended to the Houſe to be agreed to, and that the Reſolutions when agreed to, with Meſſage which they they had prepared, accompanying the ſame, ſhould be ſent to His Honour the Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Chief-Juſtice then read the Meſſage and Reſolutions in his Place, and delivered them in at the Clerk's Table, where they were again read; and, after Debate and Amendment were agreed to by the Houſe, and ordered to be ſent to His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, together with an Extract from the Journals of the Houſe of the Whole Examination of Mr. Peronneau, both before the Houſe and the Committee, and the Addreſs and Reſolutions of the Houſe thereupon, by the Maſter in Chancery.

[Numb. 1966.] MONDAY, August 30, 1773.

CHARLES-TOWN: Printed by T. POWELL & Co. at the Printing-Office near the Exchange.

☞ T. POWELL & Co. repeat their moſt grateful Reſpects to the Encouragers of this Gazette, and beg Leave to acquaint them, that ONE Year BECAME DUE Four Months ago; and, as their ſmall Demands lie in ſo many different Hands, that, unleſs they are alſo ſupported by regular annual Payments, it will be impoſſible to continue their Buſineſs on the Plan of Public Utility—the Expence and Trouble attending which are great. They therefore hope, that thoſe of their Subſcribers, as well in the Country as in Town, who have not yet attended to this, will make, or order, immediate Payment, and render any further Application to them unneceſſary.

New-Providence, July 24th, 1773.

Mr. Powell,

By giving the following Lines a Place in your Gazette, as ſoon as poſſible, you will oblige a great many of your Readers in this Iſland.

AMONG the many Inconveniencies to which ſmall Communities are expoſed, it is not the leaſt, that the Adminiſtration of the Laws is generally more unequal and irregular, and the pernicious Effects which are apt to flow from Power and indirect Influence, are oftener felt, than in extenſive and populous Societies, where the Contempt and Hatred, incurred by infringing the Laws, ſpread wider, become more univerſal, and Offenders in Office are more obnoxious to public Reſentment. A thouſand Evils and Male-Practices of a public Nature, that call aloud for Redreſs and Puniſhment, and would, in a large Place, make infinite Noiſe, and raiſe the Murmurs and Clamour of the Public, muſt be ſubmitted to in a ſmall Government, where the Hand of Juſtice is feeble and relaxed, and the People are deprived of that Security and Protection which they have a Right to expect from the Laws.

A Murder has lately been committed on this Iſland, and with ſuch Circumſtances of barbarous Cruelty, as muſt be ſhocking even to relate; the Coroner's Inqueſt viewed the Body of the unhappy Sufferer, and from ſufficient Evidence, pointed out the Author of it, who was arreſted and committed to Priſon: After having been in Confinement for about three Weeks, one of our principal Magiſtrates, without a Habeas Corpus (a Matter which, it ſeems, he deemed a frivolous Ceremony below his Notice) orders the Goaler to bring the Priſoner before him at his Chamber, and admits him to Bail, without the Advice or Aſſiſtance of any other Magiſtrate. I ſhall decline to make thoſe Obſervations which naturally occur, on the Goaler's illegal Conduct, in giving up his Priſoner contrary to Law, and without a proper Mandate for that Purpoſe; nor ſhall I ſpecify thoſe Acts of Parliament, forbidding to allow Bail, even on a mere Suſpicion of Manſlaughter or Felony, without two Magiſtrates at leaſt, one whereof to be of the Quorum. The iniquitous Violation of Law, in allowing Bail on a Charge of Forgery, a Crime neither ſo odious nor horrid in its Nature, nor ſo alarming to Society, as that of Murder, has of late been ſufficiently expoſed by the celebrated Junius, in his Letter to Lord Mansfield; and the unhappy Earl of Ferrers, who being charged with and arreſted for Murder, could not be admitted to Bail, is a ſtanding Proof and Example, that, in a Country where Juſtice is diſpenſed with Vigour and Impartiality, neither the Dignity or Fortune of the Criminal, are ſufficient to avert that Vengeance which ſo horrid an Iniquity calls for. In this Town, Sir, we have ſeveral Gentlemen in Commiſſion of the Peace, of whom it is incumbent on me to ſay, that I think them extremely capable of adviſing in that Point, and had they, or any of them, been conſulted, I believe they are Men of ſuch Integrity, that no Conſideration would have induced them to admit the above Criminal to Bail; one of them, the Hon. William Hutchinſon, Eſq; actually remonſtrated againſt the Proceeding. I am ſorry therefore that in Favour of the Gentleman under Conſideration, I cannot be brought to think, that ſo unwarrantable a Step did not proceed from an Error of his Judgment: Though this Plea could by no Means ſcreen him from the Puniſhment to which his Conduct has rendered him obnoxious, it might yet ſave him from that Indignation which every honeſt Breaſt muſt entertain againſt the Man, who, from the Importance of the Truſt repoſed in him, and the Tenor of the Oath, is under the moſt ſacred Obligation to act according to the Laws, and who, notwithſtanding, has been guilty of a moſt unprecedented and daring Violation of them. Bail has been allowed in this Government more than once, in a Caſe which happened about four or five Years ago, and which appeared prima Facie, to be Murder, though the Criminal on his Trial was found guilty of Manſlaughter. I ſhall leave my Readers to judge how far the Precedent will excuſe the preſent Affair. A Man ſtruck another on the Head with the Barrel of a Gun, and in about ten Hours the Man died of the Fracture occaſioned by the Blow; the Fact was proved againſt the Slayer, he was arreſted, and admitted to Bail, by a ſingle Magiſtrate. Though no leſs than four Acts of Parliament require the Judges of the Court of Oyer and Terminer, and General Goal Delivery, to enquire, and puniſh ſuch Magiſtrates as grant Bail where it ought to be refuſed, yet the leaſt Notice was never taken of the Proceedings now related; and the Reaſon that an Indictment or Information was not ordered againſt the Magiſtrate, is beſt known to the Hon. Gentleman who at that Time preſided at our Bar.

In a Country where Offences of ſo dangerous Tendency, and many other Violations of an inferior Nature, are daily committed with Impunity, and derive Sanction from Repetition, the Subject can have little Security for his Life, his Liberty, or his Eſtate; and as each Individual has an Intereſt in ſeeing the Laws juſtly diſtributed, every Man ought to do all in his Power towards reforming any Abuſes or Irregularities, deſtructive of the Peace and Security of the People. When a Man that is inveſted with the moſt important Truſt that can be committed to a Subject, makes light of it on almoſt every Occaſion, and regards the Rights and Privileges of the Community, though ſmall and inſufficient when compared to other Governments, as a Matter of little Conſequence; this, I ſay, is ſo glaring an Impropriety, that ſeems to involve in it a total Neglect of all that the Laws of Society, or Principles of Honour require of a Man.

As I am in Hopes, that the above Hints may ſerve either to deter, or perſuade from the like unlawful Conduct for the future, I ſhall conclude, and remain, Sir, Your humble Servant,

A BAHAMIAN.

EDMUND COSSENS, J. P.

To Mr. John Ledyard, of Melkſham, in Wiltſhire.

SIR,

I CONCEIVE it to be my indiſpenſable Duty, whenever any Thing is publiſhed, tending to depreciate the Value, or injure the Reputation, of CAROLINA INDICO, without any juſt Cauſe, to point out its Fallacy, whether it originated from Miſinformation, Deſign, or Accident.

And therefore, I muſt take upon me to remark, upon your Letter of the 29th of May, inſerted in Mr. WELLS's Paper of the 13th inſtant, 1ſt. That the Oyſter-Shell Lime uſed in this Province, in the making of Indico, is not only of ſufficient Strength, but preferable to Stone Lime.

2dly. That more than one Trial was made of your Lime, ſo much to the Coſt of the Planter, that above One Hundred Vats of Indico have been ſpoiled by the Experiment: For, 3dly. That the Indico made with Stone Lime, proved to be a hard flinty Blue or ſhining Copper, 30 per Cent. inferior to the Mellow Kind made in the uſual Way, which, though it does not look ſo well, is certainly the right Dyer's Indico. This Inferiority I aſſert upon fair Trials by me made.

4thly. That you ſeem to aſſert too much, when you ſay, "CAROLINA INDICO is ſo far from growing better, that one "Pound of the beſt Spaniſh Flora will yield as much Colour "as Twenty-four Pounds of ſome lately imported from this "Province."

Give me Leave to tell you Sir, That ſuch an Aſſertion does not clearly appear to be meant to ſerve either the Maker or Exporter of CAROLINA INDICO. If it can be true, it muſt have been common Fig Blue (one Pound of which contains about one Ounce of real Indico) ſent Home purpoſely to impoſe on the Ignorant, or to ſerve ſome other more baſe Purpoſe.

If you would acquit yourſelf from any Suſpicion of an unworthy Deſign, it will be eaſy for you to declare, to Meſſrs. WRAXALL, HALL, & Co. or Meſſrs. NEUFVILLE & ROLLESTON, Merchants in Briſtol, at what Stores, and from and whom it was bought: For,

I do aver (and my long Experience in Dyes will juſtify me in it) that I have never met with any CAROLINA INDICO ſo very bad: And, that the true Value of ſuch Indico, the Produce of this Province, as I have garbled, ſorted and ſealed, is in the following Proportion; when the beſt French or Spaniſh ſells at 7*s.* the Pound, viz.

CAROLINA, { Firſt Sort, is worth — 5*s.* 9*d.* / Second, — — 4*s.* 2*d.* / Third, — — 2*s.* 9*d.*

I will add, that of one Pound if a certain Root, which will open the Pores inſtead of binding them, is thrown into a Vat, the Difference between the CAROLINA and Foreign Indico will ſcarce be perceptible, or worth mentioning: Of this Root I have deſired Meſſrs. WRAXALL & Co. to deliver you a Pound, as well as to diſtribute ſome among ſuch other Dyers as ſhall appear to them to merit the Diſcovery of ſuch a Secret.

To give you the beſt Opportunity of proving, whether you are really friendly to the Culture of Britiſh Colony Indico; and alſo to convince you, that I deſire no more than that the Indico of this Province may have a fair Chance or Trial for its Reputation, the Gentlemen above-mentioned will alſo deliver you, in my Name, Seven Pounds and an Half of my Firſt Sort, the ſame Quantity of my Second, and alſo of my Third, that you may have its comparative Value, with the beſt French or Spaniſh, duly aſcertained—After which, I would beg you to make a Declaration thereof before the Worſhipful Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Briſtol, and then deliver the ſame to my Correſpondents there, to be tranſmitted hither, for Publication.

If you will do ſo much, I ſhall then have a more favourable Opinion of your Publications than I have hitherto entertained, and will remain, Sir,

Your Friend and humble Servant,

CHARLES-TOWN, Aug. 16th, 1773. } MOSES LINDO.

WILLIAM CALHOUN, J.P.

CHARLES-TOWN, AUGUST 30.

THE Call of the Commons House on Thursday next, is, to take the State of the Treasury under Consideration, by a Committee of the Whole House.

Last Friday arrived here about 300 Irish Passengers, in the Walworth, Captain McCausland, from Londonderry.

On Friday Night died, Mrs. Henrietta Michie, Wife of Mr. Alexander Michie.

On Saturday Morning died, Mr. William Davis, aged 76 Years, who had been many Years Messenger of His Majesty's Council, and continued to do the Duty 'till his 74th Year.

His Majesty's 7th Regiment of Foot is arrived at Quebec, and the 47th at New-York.

Price of Rice and Indian Corn, the same as last Week.

"The following PROTEST was made in the UPPER HOUSE of ASSEMBLY on Thursday last, upon the previous Question being resolved in the Negative, whether the Bill for making it Felony to counterfeit the Paper Currency of the Colonies, be read a third Time.

DISSENTIENT.

Because, We conceive the Refusal to comply with the main Question, will be misinterpreted without Doors, into a Design to reject the Bill—that it will occasion severe Reflections on the Designs of this House—that the Delay to put the Question, will occasion a further Disunion of the two Houses—and that it will be detrimental to the King's Service, and the Public Good.

Because, When a Bill has been regularly brought into this House, it ought not, without good Reasons, to be kept off from being brought to a Determination.

Because, Although the Bill is highly expedient for the Service of America, it has been treated with so little Respect, that the previous Question has been resolved in the Negative, even without one Argument or Reason given for such a Proceeding.

Because therefore, We do not apprehend there is any sound political Reason, and indeed we do not know of any, to delay reading the Bill.

Because, We are unwilling to be thought Promoters of such a Delay, probably too upon a Principle, that, in the present Conjuncture of Affairs, when a Session of Assembly will terminate several Laws, unless especially continued, this House ought not to pass any Bills, however necessary to the Public, because the Commons House has not, thus early in the Session, sent up Bills to continue such Laws as we may chuse to preserve from expiring with a Session.

Because, We are of Opinion, such a Conduct would tend to destroy the Freedom of the General Assembly: For, as when the General Duty Act was made, its Duration was limited to the End of this Session; so the Principle of not passing any Laws, till this Act shall be revived, would be unjust, and of a most dangerous and fatal Tendency, and might appear to be calculated to put a Force upon one of the independent Branches of the Legislature, to render a temporary Law perpetual, and by its Consequences, in Fact, to originate even a Money Bill.—Lest we should be thought to have meditated, or even to have countenanced, a Measure so fatal to the Freedom of our Country, We have, from a Sense of our Duty to the King, to the Public, and to Ourselves, thus made our Protest against the Delay to read the Bill, making it Felony to counterfeit the Money of the Provinces in America.

Copies of Letters ſent to Great-Britain, by Charles Paxton, Nath. Rogers, &c. of Boſton. [Continued from our laſt]

DEAR SIR,

THE Commiſſioners of the cuſtoms have met with every inſult ſince their arrival at Boſton, and at laſt have been obliged to ſeek protection on board his Majeſty's ſhip Romney:—Mr. Hallowell, the Comptroller of the cuſtoms, who will have the honour to deliver you this letter, will inform you of many particulars; he is ſent by the Board with their letters to government. Unleſs we have immediately two or three regiments, 'tis the opinion of all the friends to government, that Boſton will be in open rebellion.

I have the honour to be, with the greateſt reſpect and warmeſt regard, Dear Sir, your moſt faithful and obliged ſervant,

CHA. PAXTON.

On board his Majeſty's ſhip Romney, Boſton harbour, 20th June, 1768.

MY DEAR SIR, Boſton, Dec. 12th, 1768.

I Wrote you a few days ago, and did not then think of troubling you upon any private affair of mine, at leaſt not ſo ſuddenly; but within this day or two I have had a converſation with Mr. Oliver, Secretary of the province, the deſign of which was my ſucceeding to the poſt he holds from the Crown, upon the idea, that proviſion would be made for Governor Bernard, and the Lieutenant-Governor would ſucceed to the chair, then the Secretary is deſirous of being Lieutenant-Governor, and if in any way, three hundred pounds a year could be annexed to the appointment. You are ſenſible the appointment is in one department, and the grant of money in another; now the preſent Lieutenant-Governor has an aſſignment of £.200 a year upon the cuſtoms here; he has not received any thing from it as yet, and is doubtful if he ſhall; he has no doubt of its laſſy to the Crown, if he has the chair; if then by any intereſt that ſum could be aſſigned to Mr. Oliver as Lieutenant-Governor, and if he ſhould be allowed (as has been uſual for all Lieutenant-Governors) to hold the command of the caſtle, that would be another £.100. This would complete the Secretary's Views; and he thinks his public ſervices, the injuries he has received in that ſervice, and the favourable ſentiments entertained of him by government, may lead him to theſe views, and he hopes for the intereſt of his friends. The place of Secretary is worth £.300 a year, but is a provincial grant at preſent, ſo that it will not allow to be quartered on: And as I had a view upon the place when I was in England, and went ſo far as to converſe with ſeveral men of intereſt upon it, though I never had an opportunity to mention it to you after I recovered my illneſs—I hope you will allow me your influence, and by extending it at the treaſury, to facilitate the aſſignment of the £.200 a year, it will be ſerving the Secretary, and it will very much oblige me. The Secretary is advanced life, though much more ſo in health, which has been much impaired by the injuries he received, and he wiſhes to quit the more active ſcenes; he conſiders this as a kind of otium cum dignitate, and from merits one may think he has a claim to it. I will mention to you the gentlemen who are acquainted with my views, and whoſe favourable approbation I have had. Governor Pownall, Mr. John Pownall, and Dr. Franklin.—My Lord Hillſborough is not unacquainted with it—I have ſince I have been here, wrote Mr. Jackſon upon the ſubject, and have by this veſſel wrote Mr. Mauduit. I think my character ſtands fair—I have not been without application to public affairs, and have acquired ſome knowledge of our provincial affairs, and notwithſtanding our many free converſations in England, I am conſidered here as on government ſide, for which I have often been traduced both publicly and privately, and very lately have had two or three ſlaps. The Governor and Lieutenant-Governor are fully acquainted with the negotiation, and I meet their approbation; all is upon the idea the Governor is provided for, and there ſhall by any means be a vacancy of the Lieutenant-Governor's place. I have gone ſo far, as to ſay to ſome of my friends, that rather than not ſucceed, I would agree to pay the Secretary £.100 a year out of the office to make up £.300, provided he could only obtain the aſſignment of £.200—but the other propoſal would to be ſure be moſt eligible. I ſcarce know any apology to make for troubling you upon the ſubject; the friendſhip you ſhewed me in London, and the favourable expreſſions you made uſe of to the Lieutenant-Governor in my behalf, encourage me, beſides a ſort of egotiſm, which inclines men to think what they wiſh to be real. I ſubmit myſelf to the enquiries of any of my country-men in England, but I wiſh the matter may be ſecret till it is effected. I am with very great reſpect and regard, my dear Sir, Your moſt obedient, and moſt humble ſervant,

NATH. ROGERS.

SIR,

NOTWITHSTANDING of my having written to you very often, and at much length of late, and that I am upon the point of ſetting our for Boſton with the firſt fair weather fit for travelling, yet I cannot refrain from troubling you with a few lines about the 8th and 9th letters of the Farmer, which I now incloſe you. They are oracular here and make rapid deep impreſſions, and who is there at this time here, if capable, that may undertake to contradict or expoſe theſe agreeable ſeaſonable epiſtolatory Sophiſms? Relief, Support and Recompence ſo long and ſo much expected, hoped and wiſhed for, ſeems too tardy and ſlow paid—vigour and reſolution ſeems to be exhauſted in Great-Britain, or beſtowed upon improper and more trivial objects, than the ſubjection or obedience of America. Excuſe theſe out-pourings, of melancholy and deſpondency in a very dreary day, when the weather alters and the ſun ſhines abroad, perhaps I may ſee through a brighter or more agreeable medium, but believe me the proſpect is now bad and unpromiſing, but however it may prove, I deſire and pray you to be aſſured I am, Sir, your moſt obedient and

N. London, February 7, 1768. moſt humble ſervant, THOMAS MOFFAT.

I will alſo trouble you from Boſton.

SIR,

BY Mr. Biles I am favoured with your moſt obliging l of the ſecond of Auguſt laſt; for which, together with extraordinary civility to Mr. Biles, I truly thank you: I c not really think of ſuch a perſon going from hence, wit ſhewing him to you, as a Perſon or Miniſter of his way turn of thinking may be conſidered as of the comet kind which leads me to ſay ſomething abruptly if not improper you, that it ſeems to me here as if the Univerſities of Sco had conſpired to diſtinguiſh all the fire-brand incendiary preachers of this country with plumes of honorary degrees and titles, which in truth are only ſo many mortifications to the friends of Great-Britain or lovers of letters, who cannot help being touched and chagrined at the too frequent profuſion of honour and titles conferred from Scotland upon the leading preachers of ſedition. I wiſh this affair of literary proſtitution from my native country, may induce you to ſpeak of it to ſome of that nation, with whom I know you are intimate, that may think of perverting it for the future.

As to Boſton, the great theatre of action, I have been ſilent for ſome time paſt, only for want of certain intelligence, as every day generally produced new rumours, without any or much foundation in truth—but ſince the arrival of the two regiments with Col. Dalrymple, all has been quiet there. I now flatter myſelf, that meaſures of vigour will be purſued and maintained here; and I impatiently wiſh to hear that your friend is in power and confidence again, but that is indeed a point I have much expectation, deſire and faith in. As you have expreſſed heretofore to me inclination of knowing the proceedings of the Rhode-Iſland Aſſembly, reſpecting compentation to the ſufferers in the riot of Newport, I now trouble you with a copy of my letter of this day to the Lords of the Treaſury, which mutatis mutandis, is the ſame with that alſo to the Earl of Hillſborough of the ſame date, with a copy of the narrative and letter to Lord Shelburne.

My Lords,

AGAIN I preſume upon troubling your Lordſhips, with as ſhort an account as may be written of what has very lately paſſed in the General Aſſembly of Rhode-Iſland colony, in reference to their granting of a compenſation to the ſufferers from the riot of Newport 1765, as reſolved on in the Britiſh Parliament, and very graciouſly recommended from His Majeſty to the Governor and Company of that colony by his principal Secretary of State.

Tired out and greatly mortified with a long courſe of frequent, fruitleſs, and a very expenſive attendance upon the General Aſſembly. I had reſolved above a year ago to ſolicit them no more; But at the interceſſion of my fellow-ſufferer Mr. Howard, Chief-Juſtice of North-Carolina, I was again prevailed upon to go to Newport in September laſt, where and when the Aſſembly then met, and had a ſufficient influence to engage the Speaker of the Houſe of Deputies to move ſeveral times for reading a petition of Mr. Howard's, with an eſtimate of his loſs, ſolemnly ſworn to and authenticated by a Notary Public, with every neceſſary preſcribed form. The Speaker alſo urged upon the Houſe, becauſe of my attending from another colony upon that account only, but the Deputies would neither conſent to hear Mr. Howard's petition nor receive his eſtimate.

Immediately after this refuſal a meſſage was ſent from the Upper Houſe of Magiſtrates requeſting the Lower Houſe to enter now upon the riot of Newport, by immediately impowering the High Sheriff to impannel a Jury of Inquiſition to aſcertain and repair the loſs of Dr. Moffat, Mr. Howard, and Mr. Johnſon, but the Houſe of Deputies could not liſten nor agree to any Part of this propoſal from the Upper Houſe.

About the middle of laſt month, I wrote a moſt reſpectful letter to the Governor of Rhode-Iſland, and incloſed to his honour the eſtimate of my loſs in the Newport riot, ſworn to before and atteſted by a Magiſtrate here, requeſting the favour of the Governor to lay the ſame before the enſuing Aſſembly. The Governor writes on the ſeventh of this month "That at the laſt Aſſembly, he preſented my eſtimate and read my letter in a great Committee of both Houſes of Aſſembly, but could not prevail to have it conſidered then;" and adds "that he will endeavour to bring it in again next February."

Under the ſtrongeſt impreſſions of aſſurance, the General Aſſembly of Rhode-Iſland never will recompence the ſufferers in the riot of Newport, may I again preſume to implore your Lordſhips interpoſition and influence, to obtain a recompence for the ſufferers in Rhode-Iſland from ſome more effectual and certain channel, than that of depending any longer upon the duty or juſtice of the General Aſſembly in that colony. And my Lords, may I farther preſume in writing to your Lordſhips, to add, that by endeavouring to reſtore in ſome meaſure what I loſt in that riot, I am now ſadly ſenſible that I have not overvalued the ſum in my eſtimate, as alſo that if I am not compenſated by the intereſt, generoſity and equity of your Lordſhips, I can never expect to be poſſeſſed of half the value I then loſt; as the office of Comptroller here I now hold, has but a very inconſiderable ſalary with ſmall perquiſites. I am, my Lords, &c.

N. London, Nov. 14th, 1768. T. M.

In my laſt letter which I hope you have received, as I addreſſed it to the care of your brother, I then touched upon Sir William Johnſon's being here ſome weeks in queſt of health, and of the pleaſure Mr. Stewart and I enjoyed with him; as alſo that Lord Charles Greville Montagu was here en paſſant with his Lady; and I alſo then intimated to you our happineſs in Mr. Harriſon the Collector of Boſton, having accepted Mr. Stuart's warm invitation to come here, after the very flagrant riot at Boſton, on which he had been ſo greatly inſulted, abuſed and hurt, who came here with his lady, ſon and daughter, and ſtaid a fortnight; when we planned and regulated all theſe colonies into a ſyſtem which I could wiſh to ſee effected. Since which Mr. Stewart has viſited Mr. Harriſon at Boſton, at the time when Mrs. Harriſon with her ſon and daughter ſailed for London as a place of perfect ſafety and liberty. Mr. Harriſon's ſon is capable and promiſing, but was cruelly uſed by the mob of Boſton, which will I hope induce Mr. Harriſon's friends or rather the friends of government to provide ſuitably for ſo young a ſufferer. I could not eaſily within the compaſs of a letter to you ſay the pleaſure I have felt, in obſerving the ſtrict union and friendſhip that ſubſiſts, and is now rivetted between Mr. Harriſon and Mr. Stewart, upon principles of the trueſt honour and virtue, both of whom well underſtand and ſincerely wiſh the true intereſt of Great-Britain and all her colonies, eſpecially in the cardinal articles of legiſlation and government, as alſo in the ſubaltern or leſſer points of taxation and revenue, from which objects no attachments, connections or views will or ever can ſway the one or the other. As I have been accuſtomed to write to you with a plainneſs and freedom which I flatter myſelf has not been diſagreeable, ſo therefore I would further ſay of Mr. Stewart, that he married in an opulent, popular, and commercial family; ſome of whom, perhaps may have more oblique intereſt than may be conſiſtent with regulation or a due ſubmiſſion to the laws of Great-Britain, ſo it is with a peculiar and very ſenſible ſatisfaction, that I can aſſure you his ſpirit, addreſs, and conduct, in ſo nice a ſituation, deſerves the greateſt praiſe and commendations, as it has perhaps been or may be very influential on ſome of the beſt among them, even to a better way of thinking and acting. By the incloſed you will know that Mr. Stewart now writes to Mr. Grenville, and mention ſomething of his application, for leave from the Treaſury Board, which I only wiſh him to ſucceed in, becauſe I think Mr. Harriſon and him really the moſt capable perſons here to throw light upon many tranſactions here which cannot be communicated in letters or any written repreſentation to ſatisfaction or proper advantage. If Mr. Stewart obtains leave to return home, I ſhall be unhappy enough by his abſence. Two years are now elapſed ſince I came here, a great part of which has been ſpent in anxiouſly waiting for the Genius of Britain to awake and vindicate her ſupreme juriſdiction and authority, impiouſly queſtioned and denied in colonies, ſo very lately redeemed from hoſtile incurſions and encroachments, but I believe the time is now come, and I rejoice in its approach. I wiſh you every felicity with the preferment and employment you like beſt, and am, Sir,

Your moſt obedient humble ſervant,
THOMAS MOFFAT.

N. London, Nov. 15th, 1768.

SIR, Boſton, December 15th, 1768.

IN November laſt I wrote you from New-London, and inſerted in that letter, a copy of what I had written to the Lords of the Treaſury and the Earl of Hillſborough, relative to the compenſation of the ſufferers in the riot of Newport 1765. I hope and very much wiſh that letter may have come to your hand, becauſe in it you will ſee how ſtrictly and ſoon I will follow your counſel in making affidation to the eſtimate of my loſs, which as I apprehended, made not the leaſt impreſſion, nor could make upon the General Aſſembly of Rhode-Iſland, becauſe there was not, I believe, a member in either Houſe that did not think, and believe my loſs exceeded the eſtimate frequently laid before them to no purpoſe. I thank you therefore for the kind and good advice, which I inſtantly followed, and which I think has finiſhed this long and tedious tranſaction on this ſide the Atlantic, which has not only been ineffectual, but attended with much trouble and expence to me. How or in what light it may now be conſidered by Adminiſtration or Parliament, I cannot at this time and diſtance judge, far leſs determine. Sometimes I flatter myſelf that a reſolve of the Britiſh Senate will not be allowed to be thus ſcorned and trampled upon; at other times I deſpond, and think the object too ſmall for attention; and as there were but three ſufferers in Rhode-Iſland colony, two of whom to my great pleaſure and triumph, are now amply and very honourably provided for, I ſometimes imagine that compenſation may drop and be forgot, and indeed if it was not for the confidence which I have in you and ſome others in the Houſe of Commons, I ſhould certainly deſpair of any recompence, and which upon recollection, I muſt acknowledge as criminal in a very great degree, becauſe of its having been reſolved on in the Parliament of Great-Britain, and that ſuch ſufferers ſhould be compenſated: And I am not conſcious that I have omitted, delayed or neglected any part of my duty in the courſe of negotiating it here in America.

A few days ago I came chiefly to ſee and enjoy my friend, Collector Harriſon, that we might open boſoms to one another, upon the great ſcene and field of affairs in this country, the face of which is only altered apparently here from the arrival of the King's troops and ſhips, which have indeed reſtored a very certain ſecurity and tranquillity, and prevented, if not put a final period to their moſt peſtilent town-meetings. There is nor can be no real alteration in the ſentiment or diſpoſition of the prime diſturbers—This is but an interval or truce procured from the dread of a bayonet—The ſpecial and catholic remedy derived from and founded in an acknowledgment of the Britiſh ſupremacy and legiſlation over America manifeſted under the exerciſe of a more firm, regular and conſiſtent plan of civil government, muſt come from the decrees of the Britiſh Parliament, otherwiſe the country, and particularly New-England, will ſoon and for ever be in perpetual anarchy and diſobedience. The anxiety and diſtreſs of the few here, that are well-affected to goverment, before the arrival of the troops and ſhips was very great, and in my opinion will be greater, if vigorous, ſalutary, and proper meaſures are not adopted in Parliament.

All here ſeem anxious and impatient to know the complexion and temper of the Britiſh Parliament, and what is very unnaccountable if not incredible, the Sons of Liberty here ſo called, are elevated with hope and aſſurance, that their claims and pretenſions will be received and recognized, as they affect to phraſe it; but if I err not, this preſumption of hope may have ariſen or been cheriſhed in a great meaſure, by ſome viſits of an officer of high military rank from New-York, to ſome of the moſt populous and violent ring-leaders here, and I wiſh that I could ſay to you that the moſt miſchievous here had not been countenanced alſo by a perſon of another and very different ſtation.

I find that in conſequence of, and under an apprehenſion of unſettled, unſafe times here, Mr. Harriſon has thought it beſt that Mrs. Harriſon, his ſon and daughter, ſhould go to London, as a place of true liberty and ſafety, and as I hope they will be arrived before this reaches you, and as I formerly mentioned to you Mr. Harriſon's ſon as a young ſufferer, very roughly handled upon the 10th of June, ſo if you incline to ſee and diſcourſe him for intelligence, or any other motive, Mr. Hallowell of this town can eaſily bring him to you.

If any thing remarkable occurs here during my ſtay, I ſhall not fail to write you again. I am, Sir,

Your moſt obedient and moſt humble ſervant,
THOMAS MOFFAT.

THE growing Importance of the College of NEW-JERSEY, (for the Uſe of which the above Lottery is principally deſigned) is now generally known through every Province of America. It has hitherto ſubſiſted, and been raiſed to its preſent Situation, entirely by the Favour of the Public. In the Centre of North-America, and in a pleaſant, healthy Country, it is well fitted for the moſt extenſive Uſefulneſs. The Succeſs which has attended the vigorous Efforts already made, to raiſe its Funds, and furniſh the Means of a complete and finiſhed Education, to all who are ſent to it, has encouraged thoſe concerned in the preſent Attempt; eſpecially as ſeveral very judicious Perſons have warmly recommended it, ſignifying their Surprize, that at a Time, when ſo many have taken this Method of promoting public Undertakings, a SEMINARY, of ſuch Importance, ſhould not alſo put in for a Share of the general Benevolence. This, added to the other Schemes for the Support and Improvement of the College, will afford ſo many Friends of that Inſtitution, an Opportunity of contributing with very little Riſk of loſing, and a conſiderable Chance of Gain to themſelves, who would not incline that the ſmall Sums they could ſpare, ſhould appear in a Subſcription Paper.

As a Number of Tickets are already engaged, and many Gentlemen of extenſive Acquaintance have intereſted themſelves in this Meaſure, the Drawing will commence the Firſt Week in October next, in the Town of New-Caſtle on Delaware, and a Liſt of the fortunate Numbers publiſhed, and ſent to the ſeveral Towns and Places where the Tickets may be ſold.  Letters directed to Meſſrs. William & Thomas Bradford, in Philadelphia, and left with T. POWELL, at the Printing-Office on the Bay, near the Exchange, will be ſafely forwarded, and anſwered by the firſt Opportunity that offers after the Receipt of them.
